

Wow! Don't miss this one...

This home is VERY unique! It is a feng shui dream come true! This home is on a large yard that is totally framed with lush landscaping... a tropical paradise. That in itself would be awesome, but in addition to that, it backs to a cypress preserve that is actually association property! The beauty of this is, well it is beautiful in itself as the cypress are behind the lovely lush tropical landscaping adding even more depth and beauty, plus the preserve can't be accessed easily by anyone else so you are really the only one who gets to enjoy it! This unique home has taken full advantage of the surrounding beauty by bringing the outside in. Once you enter the front door, you see the gardens almost everywhere you look! There are windows everywhere! It is so peaceful to see nature all around you! The home highlights this with vaulted ceilings, an open floor plan, calm colors that bring the outside in, and natural details such as wood trim and beams. This is a must see as words can't quite describe the peaceful effect of this home! As if that wasn't enough, there's more! This home is immaculate! Pride of ownership shows everywhere! All of the appliances are newer and the paint and carpets look brand new! This home has 3 large bedrooms, 2 full bathrooms, a huge formal dining room, a big living room, a family room open to the kitchen, a large patio out back, lots of closets, a big pantry, a foyer, and a 2 car garage. This fabulous home is located in the prestigious neighborhood of Escondido. It an impeccably maintained family neighborhood with manned-gate entry in an "A" rated school district. It is walking distance to shops, restaurants, banks, and more! This one is certainly a must see! MLS #R2778237.
